On the eve of the election in Ohio, Foraker stock took an upward turn. Colonel Conger now figures out about 15,000 majority for the Governor's thirdterm indorsement. The Democrats still claim the State, but give no figures. They depend on great expected gains in Hamilton county. The outlook in other States is also given. -

(FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

COLUMBUS, O., November 4.-Everybody of to-morrow, and Ohio bubbles over with enthusiasm and voters. Several gentlemen who fear immersion in the consomme have been getting themselves into a proper frame of mind to take the plunge. Several more, who are very well satisfied that the portentous liquid is not for them, may receive an unwelcome awakening from their dreams

Meanwhile the political Esans are smacking their lips over the prospective pottage. Nothing so pleases your average voter of elastic principles as to learn that both parties are well heeled with the rhino that agitates into a forward motion the political mare. There are a few people who are uncomfortably prone to the belief that the result will be close, but the pernicious partisans of both parties heartily indorse and put into vigorous practice the famous advice of Hon, Bill Chandler.

ALL GONE HOME TO YOUR

The leaders have all gone home to vote. Governor Foraker went to Cincinnati today, having recovered his spirits by the rest of yesterday. He spoke at Lebanon tonight, and returned from there to Cincinhati, where he will occupy his own home on Walnut Hills and east his ballot in the First Congressional District. Hamilton county is so awfully close that the Governor will march up to the polls and deposit a straight Republican ballot. He might give Campbell a courtesy vote, if he wasn't pretty sure that Campbell will deposit at Hamilton a straight Democratic vote. Chairman Neal, of the Democratic Committee, went to Hamilton, where he will vote. He left at 2 o'clock to-day. He was claiming everything in sight when seen at the Union depot. "You can depend upon my prediction," said he. "We will have a safe Legislative majority, and will elect Campbell."

CONGER'S LATEST FIGURES. Chairman Conger, of the Republican State

Executive Committee, went home to Akron to vote this afternoon. There were several inquiries at State headquarters for his opinion, and Colonel Conger wired 'the following from Akron, in response to an inquiry from headquarters for a statement of Our poll of over 2,200 precincts in the State

A BIG PEATURE. There is one very important element which has been entirely overlooked in this fight so far as its bearing upon a big vote is concerned.

I have heretofore made no mention of it because it has been my policy to give our workers either side will kno a little scare about the apathy of voters. But than Gilroy's kite. there are candidates for Land Appraisers in every township in the State. This position is of more local importance than any other office of a local nature. The pay is good, $3 a day, and a good class of men is generally While the rural voter may care very little who rules the State, he cares very much who appraises his land, and he will be out in force to vote on that office. I know of townships where party lines have been so broken in the nemination of land appraisers that from two to seven different men are actual candidates for the same office. This means a hot fight, with every vote out. Our big Republican majorities come from the rural disricts, and you can see that it is fair to presume that there will be an immense vote through the State.

AN ENGRMOUS VOTE EXPECTED. At this writing telegrams to the Ohio State Journal (Republican) from all parts of the State are indicative of the greatest The vote last year was $40,000, in round humbers, and mark my prediction, there will be of the State are indicative of the green for the state and confidence in Governor Forgard and the state of the state are indicative of the green for the green for the state are indicative of the green for the 20,000. It will, however, be closer than WALES. election would be assured by from 10,000 to that. 15,000 votes. It is undeniably close in Hamilton county, and we neither claim nor concede it. I may say in conclusion, that although the Democratic State Committee has been active, there has been a dismal failure to reduce the energy expended to actual, practical politics. Secretary Donne stated to-night that the Republican estimates would be based upon the Foraker-Powell vote of 1887. The Western Union Telegraph Company will collect ern Union Telegraph Company will collect and handle all the returns in a thorough manner, centering in Cincinnati. As the polls close in Cincinnati and Cleveland at polls close in Cincinnati and Cleveland at light. There has been comparatively little campaigning, as this is considered an "off year," and there appears to be little or no interest in the result of the election.

The Democrats are unquestionably banking on Hamilton county for a big majority. Should the result prove close the Democratic sponge will ascend in the ambient air, while Candidate Campbell is descending into the appetizing pottage, all at an early hour in the evening. Colonel Yeoman, of this city, known as the boss political bettor in the State, was loudly parading around a noted resort tonight with $50 bills radiating from his fingers in all directions. The currency was conversing loudly. They were saying Foraker. Colonel Yeoman has had a bet of $500 to $400 that Foraker would have 7,000 plurality in the State posted for several days. To-night he increased the odds to $500 to $350 on the same basis, but no Democrat bit at the bait.

"It's 3 to 2 and no takers, and 2 to 1 and a few small bettors, with Campbell on the short end," said the Colonel, "I won $8,000 on Foraker two years ago, but can't place my money as well as I would like to this year. There are a few bets on county officers, but the Gubernatorial bettors don't seem to be getting on deck. This TALK ABOUT DISAFFECTIONS don't amount to much. Foraker is a positive man. He makes tracks when it snows. Of course he has enemies, but those enmitics make other friends. Foraker will be elected by a handsome majority."

It is announced here to-night that the registration of this county beats that of last full, the Presidental year, by 24 votes. This is a mighty significant straw, and shows that a full vote is an assured fact.

In a summary of the real business of to morrow, many interesting things are devel-oped. In the 1887 campaign, which will furnish the basis of estimation for to-morrow's figuring, there were four candidates, Foraker, Powell, and John Seitz, Labor-Greenback, and Marris Sharp, Prohibitionist. Foraker received 356,534 votes; Powell, 333,205; Seitz, 24,711, and Sharp 29,700. Foraker's plurality over Powell was 23,334. It is the latter figures which Campbell is forced to stand off, and eye with something of the feeling in which he would regard a stone wall. In order is girding up his loins for the great contest | that an intelligent idea may be obtained of the counties and relative votes of Ohio in the 1887 contest, a list is appended for reference when figures begin to fly:

In New York City the preparations for the election were all completed to-night. The situation is complicated by the singular combination which has been made between the County Democracy and the Republicans to defeat the Tammany Hall ticket, and the impression prevails in some quarters that this will lead to a good deal of trading, and it has already been charged that more or less colonization of voters has been indulged in. In line with the decision of the Supreme Court that the voter may not visit the polls twice or oftener in order to deposit his full ballot, the Police Commissioners have issued instructions to the force to see that no one be permitted to present his ballots except in the

Richardson, the Iowa member of the Na- the Rujenzori and finally enters the 1.26 tional Democratic Committee, was asked Albert Nyanza, making the Albert Edward this evening for his views on the outcome of to-morrow's election in this State. Mr. White Nile, the Victoria Nyanza being the Richardson said that during the past week he had received advices assuring nature. Enough changes are being noted, if correspondents are not misinformed, to overcome the majority given Governor Larrabee two years ago. In this part of the State, Mr. Richardson said, many Republicans declare they will vote for the Democratic nominee, Boies, on account of his pledged opposition to prohibitory legislation. Mr. Richardson is confident of the defeat of the Republican State ticket, and particularly its head, Senator Hutchison. George D. Perkins, editor of the Sioux City Journal, in an interview, said he has no doubt of Republican success to-morrow, Hutchison has been outspoken in support of prohibition, and thus invited whatever antigonism the opponents of this policy can muster. Mr. Perkins expects the Republican majority on joint ballot in the Legislature will be increased, rendering certain the re-election of Senator Allison. As a matter of fact, Mr Perkins says, the only fight is over the saloon question, and the vote against prohibition in nearly all the larger cities is likely to show an increase. In the rural districts the sentiment in favor of prohibition is generally increased. M. M. Ham, formerly member of the Democratic National Committee for Iowa, in an interview this evening, said that the coming election was the most doubtful of any held in Iowa for 35 years. Most of the Democrats expect to elect Boies, and the Republicans, as a rule, are more frightened than they have ever been before. The reaction from prohibition is great, the stand of the druggists, Farmers' Alliance and workingmen are all encouraging to the Democrats. Hopeful reports have been received from all parts of the State, and great dis affection has been shown among Republicans, while the Democrats are solid.

LEBANON, November 4.-Robert H. Coleman's furnace, No. 1, situated in West Lebanon, along the Lebanon Railroad, broke at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the rear of the stack, and hurled forth the molter metal, which soon spread over that part of the furnace, while the escaping gas was forced up a distance of 100 feet, enveloping the elevator and tunnel head. A similar break occurred there on Saturday night and considerable slag was forced out, but the break was repaired this morning. John Snider was placed in charge of a force of laborers to remove the slag, and while removing a heavy piece over the spot where the break had occurred, it again burst forth. The following laborers were caught in the molten flood and burned to death:

William Snider was found in the slag with his arms and legs burnt off, while his body remained above the molten metal. Several more bodies have been removed from the slag, but they cannot be recognized.

Analarm of fire was sounded and the steam engines of the city went into service, throwing water on the slag so as to eqol it off, allowing the men to go to work at recovering the bodies. There was intense excito-ment among the several hundred women who came rushing to ascertain whether their men were safe. There were some sad scenes but all of them bore up bravely under the circumstances. The dead so far recovered were placed in the office at the works, while the injured were conveyed to their homes. The work of recovering the dead will be continued all night.

WASHINGTON, November 4.-There was rm can result. If General Grant's reeyes of the whole country are turned on the mains are removed to Arlington, and Mrs. for State officers. With the election of Mc-Kinney the State enters upon another era of prosperity and peace; with the election of Mahone, the solid South is broken. That election to be held in Virginia to-morrow "Nine-tenths of the army officers," said he McKinney will be elected and Mahone de-McKinney will be elected and Mahone de-feated admits of scarcely a doubt. Conserva-tive Democrats place McKinney's majority at 15,000 or 20,000. Francis B. Lassiter, been besieging the War Department for permission to have their loved ones removed to Arlington, the emigratory movement being started by the burial at that place of Sheridan. If they want to bury Grant at the national capital why don't they take him to the Soldiers' Home, instead of hiding Chairman of the Fourth District Democratic Committee, asked for his views tonight in regard to the outlook, said: "The normal Republican majority in the Fourth district has been rather more than 7,000. district has been rather more than 7,000.

Through the energetic management of the November election last year this was reduced to 3,879. This year there is a great disaffection among the Republicans, and unless Mahone spends extravagant sums in BUYING HIS OWN NEGROES we cannot fail to do as well as we did last year. The Democrats are greatly encouraged and in excellent working trim. Hopehim away across the Potomac? You will aged and in excellent working trim. Hopeington. Of course, General Grant was the ful accounts come from every county. I hope to see something like a political revogreat figure of the war, but General Thomas nes mighty near being at the top."

The Democratic ticket will receive the support of a large number of colored voters who are violently opposed to Mahone and his tyrannical methods. One of the most prominent colored Republicans in the State stated to-day that there were about 90,000 colstated to-day that there were about 90,000 col-ored voters in the State, and that in his opin-ion 20,000 of this number would cast their ballots for McKinney and the other Demo-cratic nominees. It is believed by many that Langston's sudden change in the past few days will avail Mahone but little in this political fight, for the change came too Thursday night Henry Miller, the range foreman for Colonel R. G. Head, with several cowboys camped

It is reported that Mahone has been furnished with $25,000 by the Republican National Committee with which to insure his election. He had a large number of callers to-day, and to-night his residence is besieged with his friends, anxious te get some cheering news and learn what the little General thinks of his chances. Mahone says that he will be elected, but declines to say by what majority. His friends say that he will defeat McKinney by at least 10,000 majority. Ex-Congre man James D. Brady says that with a full ballot and fair count Mahone will from 5,000 to 10,000. W. W. Evans, editor of the Virginia Lancet, the organ of the colored people here, and who is also a colored member of the Virginia Legislature, of Petersburg, says that in his opinion Mahone's majority will be 10,000. As a precautionary measure, and with a view of quelling any disturbance that may occur. Mayor Collier this afternoon swore in an extra police torce of 50 men to do duty at extra police force of 60 men to do duty at the polls to-morrow.

CHARGES OF PRAUD.

A letter has just been received at Chatham, in Pittsylvania county, from the clerk of Mercer county, West Virginia, giving the names of 67 negroes from Pittsylvania county who are registered in Mercer and McDowell counties, West Virginia, and voted there last fall for Goff, the Republican condidate for Governor. can candidate for Governor. They are all registered in Pittsylvania county, and have returned to that county to vote for Mahone. But for this timely information here over 67 illegal votes would have been cast for the Republican ticket. A fraud of another kind comes from Roanoke City. Eighteen negroes are registered there in one ward upon transfers from Dry Fork precinct, in Pittsylvapia. The Registrar at Dry Fork states that he only issued four transiers, and that the other 14 are forgeries, no such names having been on the Dry Fork books. Such fraudulent practices on the part of the Mahoneites are coming to light in all of the counties, and in spite of the scrutiny of the Democrats they say several thousand negroes are still

ILLEGALLY REGISTERED and will vote. Mahone's agents are devoting their greatest energies to the distribu-tion of these bogus transfers, and large numbers of negroes are reported as arriving from different points to-day to vote. Many come from the Maryland border, but the largest number are from Tennessee and North Caro-lina. "Poor, blind, driven creatures," said a Democrat from Amelia to-day, as he exhibited a list of 43 of these illegal voter that he had been commissioned to watch 'We hate to put them in the penitentiary in accordance with the law, for it doesn't deter othersof the race from the same offenses. They don't dare to refuse to do as Mahone or anybody who represents the Republican party tells them to do. Many of these newas held to-day to further consider the proposition to advance through rates from the seabcard to St. Paul and Minneapolis. The Burlington and Northern withdrew, or modified its objections of last week, and the outcome of the conference was an agreement to establish through rates on the following basis, taking effect November 20: First class, $1.15; second, $1; third, 80 cents; fourth, 56 cents; fifth, 48 cents; sixth, 40 cents. groes have left their bread-earning employ-ments in other places to come here and vote because they are superstitious about the penalty that will fall upon them if they do

MAHONE GAINS IN ONE WAY, This campaign has proved a blessing to Mahone in a respect which, according to some high authorities, is of more value than a Governorship or any other political place, For many years he has been a confirmed dyspeptic. When he was railroad president his private car was stocked with all kinds of the private car was stocked with al waters and nostrums, 'His Senatorial term increased his malady. The long rides in the open air, the walks over rough country roads like abdomen is swollen until it is a tolera-bly fair ministure of the bloated bondholder section once the subject of derision by the General in his readjuster speeches and pamphlets. His cheeks are round and rosy and the signs of good health are apparent.

admission was first signed by the President. The influences used to secure this priority were not only amusing but absurd, and the President, not to be, accused of favoritism determined that not even he should know which was first admitted.

Consequently, when the proclamations were brought to the Executive Mansion, from the War Department, they were shuffled and cut and shuffled again, and then the President strawled his autograph, without again leoking at the proclamations. Therefore, neither the Dakotians, the President, nor anyone in the wide world will ever know whether North or South Dakota had precedence of admission into the Union.

At its meeting in New York yesterday the Ball Players' Brotherhood issued & manifesto giving its reasons for embarking in business for itself. It claims that the League, as now conducted, subordinates everything to its greed for the dollars in the usiness. The League's grievances are set forth, and a bid made for patronage in Its undertaking, which, it assures the public, is a sure "go."

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATORS NEW YORK, November 4 .- The Baseball Players' League, which has been a mystery to almost every baseball enthusiast, will be started Wednesday. The move has been talked over and contemplated for some time, but no move could be made until the regular meeting of the Baseball Players' Brotherhood, which is composed of National League players only. This meeting was held at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-day. It will be the last meeting of the Brotherhood, as Ward says, and after to-morrow the new syndicate will take charge.

WHO ARE THE PEOPLE?

This syndicate is composed of players and apitalists. Each club is allowed $10,000 worth of stock, which the players can subscribe for if they wish. As far as known all the stock attested to the clubs has been taken and more is wanted, but cannot be that it made it impossible to see 50 feet ahoad. Miller called his men together and they started to follow the herd and made an attempt to keep them bunched as far as possible.

The meeting did not begin until nearly 2 o'clock, and it was after 7 o'clock when it came to an end. The time League managers, and a general salk ever uture plans. The following eard was then und to the public:

"To the public:

"At last the Brotherhood of Baseball Players feel a liberty to make known lits utentions, and defend itself against the asperaions and misrepresentations which for weeks it has been forced to suffer in silence. Tit is no longer a secret that the players of the League have determined to play next season under different management, but for reasons which will, we think, be understood, it was deemed advisable to make an announcement of this intention until the close of the present season. But now that the struggles for the various pennants are over, and the terms of our con there is no longer reason for it. In taking this step we feel that we own it to the public and to ourselves to exp briefly some of the reasons by which we

the district in which the claimant resides. General Raum said to-day that in many instances claimants come to Washington from a great distance, and at considerable expense, in the erroneous belief that by an examination by the Washington board, and personal solicitation, their cases will be more promptly acted upon, and possibly with a greater degree of liberality. Some of these are indeed poor and cannot afford the expense, and it is more to save these people from needless expense than it is to give the several examining hoards their proper share of the work of making examinations that this policy has been adopted. If the local boards are incompetent or are influenced by prejudice or favoritism, said General Raum, they will be removed, and competent surgeons appointed in their places. The Washington board will not hereafter be allowed to examine claimants for pensions whose residence is not within "There was a time when the League stend for integrity and fair dealing; to-day it stands for dollars and cents. Once it looked to the elevation of the game and an honest exhibition of the sport; to-day its eyes are on the turnstile. Non have come into the business for no other motive than to explois it for every dollar in sight. Measures originally intended for the good of the game have been perverted into instruments for wrong. The reserve rule and the nat agreement gave the managers unlimited power, and they have not healtated to use this in the most arbitrary and mercenary way. Players have been bought and exchanged as though they were sheep instead of American citizens, 'Reservation' became with them another name for property right in the player. By a combination among themselves, stronger than the stronger trust, they were able to enfore the MOST ARBITRARY MEASURES, and the player had either to submit or get out of the profession in which he had spent years in attaining proficiency. Even the disbandment and retirement of a club did dishandment and received from the octopus' not free the players from the octopus clutch, for they were then peddled around to the highest bidder. That the player sometimes profited by the sale has nothing to do with the case, but only proves the injustice of his previous restraint.

"Two years ago we met the League and attempted to remedy some of these evila, but through what has been politely called 'League diplomacy' we completely failed. Unwilling longer to submit to such treatment we made a strong effort last spring to reach an understanding with the League. To our application for a hearing they replied 'that the matter was not of sufficient importance to warrant a meeting,' and suggested that it be put off until fall. Our ommittee replied that the players felt that the League had BROKEN PAITH with them; that while the results might be of little importance to the managers, they were of great importance to the players; if the League would not concede what was fair, we would adopt other means to protest ourselves; that if postponed until fail we would be separated and at the mercy of the League, and that as the only course lett us required time and labor to davelop, we must therefore insist upon an imp
